Collection on Good Friday, marked "Holy Land"

Vatican Information Service recently stated Cardinal Leonardo Sandri, prefect of the Congregation for the Oriental Churches, addressed a letter to all bishops worldwide in view of the collection for the Holy Land.

"Presently, there are millions of refugees fleeing Syria and Iraq, where the roar of arms does not cease and the way of dialogue and concord seems to be completely lost. Senseless hatred seems to prevail instead, along with the helpless desperation of those who have lost everything and have been expelled from the land of their ancestors. If the Christians of the Holy Land are encouraged to resist, to the degree possible, the understandable temptation to flee, the faithful throughout the world are asked to take their plight to heart."

The Pontifical Good Friday Collection offers a direct opportunity for parishioners to be witnesses of peace. Their support is a sign of Christian unity, which helps protect the Holy Places and supports Christians in the Holy Land. This annual Pontifical Good Friday Collection unites all Christians with the Holy Land.

"Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, ..." Mark 10:14

The language of tears HB GREGORIOS III: Letter for Great and Holy Lent 2017

Weeping is a language. It is a silent, eloquent and deep expression of a person's intimate feelings. So it is with the tears of the sinful woman, or the tears of Peter. When words are unable to express feelings, then tears gush from the eyes like a spring, in an activity at once physical and spiritual. The eyes weep. The heart weeps. The whole person weeps. Prayer is the most suitable time to express the deepest feelings through tears.

Weep with those who weep

Saint Paul exhorts us in these terms: "Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep." (Romans 12: 15) How many are they who weep, who mourn, are wounded, sick, suffering, hungry, thirsty, in our society, especially today in our Middle East, weighed down by the yoke of emigration, terrorism, violence, war, takfirism, death and crime.

Faced with this world of violence, we need a great fund of tears, as if we were the mothers of Bethlehem who would not be consoled after the massacre of their children, the Innocents.
